Personal Profile

'Personality Perfect' Online Test

Being represented as a 'INFP', I can perform tasks at hand self-sufficiently without the guidance or aid of others. The ability to work alone can be reliable as I do not require may others to produce a reasonably usable result. However, when placed within a team scenario my communication and competence levels may differ.

INFP

What are INFP's like?

An INFP's main goals are to discover their life meaning and to serve humanity. They are idealistic and perfectionists who drive themselves hard to achieve these goals. They are highly intuitive about people, and rely heavily on their intuition to guide them. INFPs are the gentle, considerate, and gentle souls who put people at ease. They are reserved in expressing their own emotions but generous to most others and wish to understand them. INFPs are usually friendly and laid-back, but can also become aggressive defenders of the causes they believe in.

The Idealist

Introvert

Quiet, reserved, and self-sufficient. Socializing drains their energy. Comfortable being alone. Processes thoughts internally. Needs time alone to recharge.

iNtuitive

Imaginative, creative, and introspective. Good at analysis of complex topics. Focuses on the future instead of the present. Thinks out loud.

Feeling

Uses personal values, feelings and subjective criteria to make decisions. Ruled by the heart, not the head. Deliberate, tactful and empathetic. Motivated by appreciation and prefers to avoid arguments and conflicts.

Perceiving

Prefer to go with the flow and following options come before adaptation and doing with the flow. Flexible, less aware of time. Prefers to start projects spontaneously than need for many rules.

7 Common INFP Traits

1. Loves life and all the good that comes with it
2. Spontaneous and quick to adapt, but hard on themselves over personal failure
3. Loves to be around people, naturally warm and compassionate
4. Highly intuitive and perceptive, good at making people feel comfortable
5. Strives to make the world a better place
6. Avoids hurting people's feelings but can sometimes be too controlling
7. Are good mediators and avoid conflicts

Myer-Brigg's 16 Personality Test

Being represented as an ISFJ-T by the Myer-Briggs 16 personality test, it presents my character as one which seeks constant improvement. As a result, seeks for errors within systems with ideas on what and how to improve/resolve an issue. Within a team environment, I will be capable of assisting my team mostly in assessing the final components of the project, looking for potential issues and problems within the final solution, looking for methods and techniques which could improve the quality of the project.

Learning Styles Test

Using a online learning test, I have learnt that I am an Auditory/Visual learner meaning I learn best by hearing and listening rather than "doing". As a result, I can learn most efficiently through an online environment whereas a tactile learner may fall. Within a team scenario, I will be able to learn and apply techniques easily online if offline campus is somehow compromised due to another COVID-19 style outbreak.

You are an Auditory/Visual learner

Your scores:

- Auditory: 35%
- Visual: 35%
- Tactile: 30%
